

Special Security Agency

This program is designed to enhance the intellectual abilities of our youth curious about the career of a government agent. Students will have access to equipment, techniques and teaching used by the strong men and women who protect and serve the people.

The Special Security Agency is a program for boys and girls grades 9th – 12th.

Program Description

The SSA of Tomorrow program is set up to give participants the opportunity to explore the exciting career of a SSA agent. The program will allow students to engage in real life missions, interact with various policy makers and take part in various high class social events. The program will be split into different levels which challenges the participant as he/she progresses through the program. Students will get training and the knowledge necessary to become some of the strong men & women who protect our nation.

Important Dates & Information

Classes will be held on Saturday mornings from 9am-1pm at Kettering University. A calendar will be provided to each participant prior to the first day of class to inform them of each class session. Parents, it is important that you read over the calendar so that you can be aware of every class date. If a class is canceled, you will be contacted in advance. Parents are encouraged to attend presentations presented by the participants.

Attendance is very important in the Special Security Agency program. Participants will engage in very intense and educational activities every class period. That is why it is important that participants display the same commitment as the staff of the Special Security Agency program. Participants will be allowed 3 unexcused absences before being automatically withdrawn from the program.
